Warning signs installed

The Appomattox County School Board recently installed traffic warning signs on five school buses. These signs were made available to the school system through a federal grant to the Virginia State Department of Education. Each school division in the state participating in the program received signs for approximately ten percent of the bus fleet.

The use of the traffic warning signs is intended to prevent, and reduce the increase of motorists passing school buses stopped to load and unload pupils, thus reducing the number of pupil injuries and fatalities.

School buses make many stops to load pupils from 7:30 to 8:45 a.m. and to unload pupils from 3:15 to 4:30 p.m. Being aware of traffic laws and following these laws is a responsibility of every citizen.

The State Department of Education plans to seek federal assistance to equip approximately one-fourth of the remaining buses in each school division with a warning sign each year over the next four years. Beginning with 1980 model buses, the warning sign will be included as a part of school bus specifications which manufacturers must meet.

Wreck Island Extension homemakers meeting

By MARGARET LEE

Mrs. Katherine Alvis was hostess to the Wreck Island Extension Homemaker's Club which met at her home at 10:00 a.m. for an all day meeting. Prior to the demonstration in the afternoon a workshop was held on crafts, instructed by Mrs. Dixie Staten.

The president, Mrs. Dixie Staten, presiding, led the group in the "Homemakers Creed".

Devotions were given by Mrs. Frances Dyess.

Mrs. Virginia Tyler (representative of the club) reported on the Clean Up Program for Appomattox County she recently attended. Clean up week is May 18-25. Different clubs were asked to take part in cleaning certain roads. Wreck Island Club members will clean Route 613 from Hebron Church to Police Tower. She urged members before they start picking up to spray yourself, wear gloves, and take brown paper bags.

Mrs. Tyler also distributed to members badges to wear while cleaning up. "I've Joined In Won't You," also bumper stickers and bags given them.

Mrs. Katherine Alvis presented a demonstration on "Flower Gardening," showing slides of many beautiful flowers, and passed out useful material on how to grow and care for various flowers.

Members were delighted to tour Mrs. Alvis flower garden, who gave each member a plant or bulbs to take home.

The hostess served delicious refreshments to the 12 members in attendance and a social hour was enjoyed by all.

The next meeting will be held on June 18, at 1:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Zolene Harden who will be giving the demonstration. Topic "Chinese Cookery".
